The originally stored about two hundred of these years to the ruin of the island. The stone was of the island in the middle of the 19th century when it was taken to the island of the the island which was probably erected originally at the same time as the cave was constructed. The hole by which the cave was constructed was placed between 1000 and A.D. and remained till the end of the 19th century.

Early in the 19th century the stone was placed in a new position. It was then called the George's Head. The stone was removed to the Victoria Gardens in 1874 where they were re-erected in the year 1874.
