

What do you think Rip Van Winkle would see if he woke up 60 years from today?
What do you think the future will be 200 years from now?
What do you think the future will be 2000 years from now?
What do you think the future will be 800,000 years from now?
What do you think humans will look and be like then? You can also draw a picture showing how they would look

The first novel we will read is the Time Machine by H.G. Wells.
